Tariff and Other Policy Resources

Jennifer Polanz

Between the time I write this and the time you read this there will be many news cycles with the facts constantly changing. But one thing that likely won't change by the time you get this is where you can find resources related to potential tariffs impacting multiple countries, including Canada, Mexico and China. Here are a few places you can turn to for details on tariffs and other policy-related information:

- International Fresh Produce Association: Visit the Tariff Resources page and watch the Advocacy section for new Priority Issues for 2025.
- CEA Alliance: Under its Resources tab there's events, webinars and government resources.
- AmericanHort: Under its Advocacy link it highlights a variety of policy priorities. While it advocates for the ornamental industry, the goals and priorities overlap with CEA production.
